Frostproof, FL, September 08, 2022 - Jeanine Lady Jae Ernest proudly announces the publication of Toxic, a collection of urban fiction stories that deals with the toxicity of everyday relationships. The five short story collection will be available on Smashwords.com for $2.99 on November 22, 2022.

"Married to the Devil" is the first story in the collection. Cynthia, a bitter mother, is determined to protect her son's wealth by any means, even against his new wife. As hate filled words are exchanged and the truth is revealed, the son must make a decision between the love of his life and the one who gave him life.

In "Unappeased", after learning the truth of her husband's infidelity, Celeste sets out to confront him and learns the true extent of how far he will go to fulfill his own sexual desires.

Completely fed up with her boyfriend's whorish ways, Angela, and her best friend Chelsea, deliver their own chaotic version of revenge in "Surprise, Surprise".

Marlo's past resurfaces in "Till Death Do We Part" when her husband's true sadistic ways come to a head. Marlo has a choice to make: honor her vows or turn on the one man she promised to do anything for.

The collection raps up with a second person erotica, "Love You to Death", that reveals what happens when loving on somebody too hard and for too long goes too far.
